EDITOR'S MESSAGE

As the portals of "Our Temple of Knowledge" swing wide to make ready our departure, we view an old familiar world with a renaissance of vision. We realize that though we are departing as many, seeking varied occupations, we shall continue as one in our thoughts concerning "Dear Old Roosevelt." We know that the termination of our secondary education need not mean an end of our quest for knowledge in its purest form. It is the hope of the perpetuators of wisdom that we take from this magnificent structure more than just the information we acquire from our books. It is their fondest hope that we take good citizenship, better human relationship, and excellent scholarship. We go forth into this new life with the hope of becoming intelligent, responsible citizens in a "Great Society".

Occasionally our thoughts will return to our stay in "Our Temple of Knowledge" in hopes of recapturing some of our experiences. In order to review our stay without relying too heavily on our memories, we have only to look in our archives of a Golden Age, our 1965 Rooseveltian. It is here we shall relive that joyous, helpful, hopeful life of a senior. Coming alive will be the clubs and organizations which commanded a great portion of our attention. Again we shall hear the roar of students who crowded into the athletic fields to witness brilliantly executed physical feats. But more than anything else, we shall be able to renew our acquaintances with instructors and administrators who guided us successfully through each chamber of learning and discipline.

As we stand on the threshold of tomorrow, our eminent educators direct us through our Temple's portals, marking the end of our stay in the Temple and the beginning of our exploration of a new life. Their good-byes to us are a reiteration of these words of wisdom as found in the "Scholar's Creed":

"I believe the knowledge I have received or may receive from teacher and book,
does not belong to me;

That it is committed to me only in trust;

That it still belongs and always will belong to the humanity which produced it through all the generations.

I believe I have no right to administer this trust in any manner whatsoever that may result in injury to mankind, its beneficiary, on the contrary—

I believe it is my duty to administer it for the good of this beneficiary, to the end that the world may become a kindlier, a happier, a better place in which to live."

ADMINISTRATION

For centuries men have built institutions in which they hoped they might fulfill their quests for knowledge. Designed and erected for the sole purpose of encouraging progress through scholarship, it is our belief that Roosevelt is a product of this search. From the tip of the tower to the rails along the wall it stands majestically amidst a shadowed landscape of towering pine and maple trees. For over four decades, it has served as a "Temple of Knowledge" for thousands of young people.

We strongly feel that many of the academic and athletic achievers who have departed from its hallowed halls were in some manner influenced by the personal attention and sound advice given them by the many capable men who have served and do serve as our administrators. Man's decision to build schools for the purpose of instructing young people was a wise one. As one writer has said, "The sure foundations of the state are laid in knowledge, not in ignorance."

The beginning of the search for knowledge is the gratification of curiosity. This rapidly advancing society in which we live is in dire need of more scholars and learned men. These men should be recognized as the best learned, rather than the most learned; for how much one knows is of least importance, for knowledge is but a burden when not properly put to use.

Roosevelt, Our Temple, was built to convey knowledge. Its present administrators stress and encourage academic achievement. Moreover, they do much to awaken our young people to the demands of the day. This is in keeping with our philosophy: The surest route to knowledge is first, learn that which is necessary; second, learn that which is useful. The knowledge must then be applied in such a way that it benefits humanity.

OUR PRINCIPAL'S LETTER

February 10, 1965

My Dear Seniors,

“The time has come,” the Walrus said,
“To talk of many things:
Of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—
Of cabbages and kings.”

Again the time has come for us to talk of many things; graduation, jobs, college and what's ahead for all of you. This is the time for finishing one phase of your lives and beginning another. Soon you will be introduced either to the world of work or to higher education.

The future has never been so bright for those who possess real competence and ability. For these there are unlimited opportunities for rich experiences and for challenging and satisfying work. But for those who have no particular skill, who have little that is saleable in the market-place of competition, the outlook is not too promising. For them a realistic self-appraisal and rigorous post-high school training is their only hope.

Whatever course you may choose to follow, the thoughts, the affection, and the best wishes of your friends, parents, and teachers go with you. We have watched you grow, develop, and mature. In you rest our hopes and inspiration. May each of you justify, to the best of his ability, our faith in you. May all of you take giant strides toward reaching your goals. Hail and farewell!

Sincerely yours,

Warren M. Anderson

We who entered this "Temple of Knowledge" as one now make our departure as many. We, who endeavored earnestly to grasp as much knowledge as possible, take leave of our purple-hued halls. We, whose sojourn here was so pleasant, now embark upon the seas of humanity. We who have taken so much from so few go out to serve, to make a better world for those who come behind.

Through the years many seniors have trooped across this Temple's threshold. From out its "hall of ivy" have gone many sons and daughters, eager to work, to serve, to love. We, no less than they, now troop to the drum beats of society. There may be some of us who'll march to a different tune, but the majority of us will march to tunes of glory. We leave with heads held high, but hearts low. We leave behind our records to speak of what we did here. We take with us the many thoughts and problems weighed and considered here. We carry the banner of success that flew here. We transpose the toils and tears shed here. Our leave-taking is but a day spent in the Courts of Learning, for a day in our "Temple of Knowledge" is better than "a thousand" in the streets.

To those who toiled for our success, we bid a fond farewell and offer thanksgiving. To those who come behind we wish success in the pursuit of that which we pursued. To our "Temple of Knowledge", we bow our heads in reverence. May she ever stand as a beacon to those who seek a way of life. May her glory ever shine and may her doors forever remain open. Unto her we give great glory.

ACTIVITIES

That all work and no play makes Jack and Jill dull boys and girls is a known fact. This being so prompted our teachers and administrators to provide for the inhabitants of "Our Temple of Knowledge" a varied and energetic program of activities.

Although these activities are extra-curricular, they are so arranged that each has a special function with respect to the whole curriculum. These various activities shape our beings physically, morally, and mentally.

When it comes to fellowship there is nothing to compare with our Senior Hi-Y and Charm, Service and Culture Clubs. They serve our community as well as our school. Known far and wide are our musical groups. They blend their voices so well that one wonders if he hears the voice of celestial beings. The Madrigal Singers, the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, Mixed Chorus, and the Girls' Ensemble are the voices of these angels. With such groups as the Future Business Leaders of America, Future Scientists of America, Future Homemakers of America, we can be assured that our "Great Society" will be in capable hands.

Here to see that the world learns of its future leaders is our Fourth Estate. The Panther Post is the one activity where our voice of opinion is heard loud and clear. Serving along with this news media is our aesthetic media, The Bard. It is through this channel that student creativity expresses itself. In "Our Temple of Knowledge" we seek to build better human relations. What better ways could we do this than through language, which serves as our key to one world.

Knowing that "all good things must come to an end," we, the joyful senior dwellers of "Our Temple of Knowledge," feel that we need a record of our stay here. Therefore, the Rooseveltian is our tableau for the safe keeping of said record. To the assiduous Rooseveltian Staff we owe all that is contained in this record of "Our Temple of Knowledge."
